

SURVEY PROCESS INTERNS

McLagan, a subsidiary of Aon Corporation, has been the leader at providing market share and performance reports, compensation studies and consulting to the world's leading financial services firms since 1966. We draw on more than forty years of focused financial services experience to deliver unparalleled expertise to our clients seeking to improve their understanding of market performance and compensation trends.

We are looking for a student to fill an intern position during 2010 in our Stamford, CT Headquarters.

Position Title: Process Intern

Job Description: This role gives the Intern an opportunity to understand our Survey Business from the ground up, and is an essential part of how we produce our Surveys. Candidates will gain exposure to the structure of the financial services industry, including Asset Management, Private Banking and Investment Banking/Capital Markets. This role works across the organization developing a working relationship with Survey Managers and Analysts.

Daily activities include receiving client data, loading and reviewing firm compensation information, and resolving data issues with Survey Managers.

Qualifications: Ideal applicants would have the following attributes:

- Microsoft Excel skills
- Detail oriented
- Works well under pressure
- Works well with others as well as individually
- Willingness to work overtime (as needed)

Learning Opportunities: McLagan has a strong internal training program.

- Survey Process Interns will gain a high level of Proficiency with Excel

Compensation: We offer a competitive hourly rate.

Time Frame: January through August/September

Aon Corporation is a family of brokerage, consulting and consumer insurance companies providing innovative solutions for diverse businesses, financial institutions, governments, insurance organizations and individuals worldwide.

Aon is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to a diverse workforce. M/F/V/D